Meet our beloved 2012 Ford Focus SE — low mileage at just 81,000 km and treated very well over the years. It's got a new battery (2024), new winter tires, and a set of 19" summer rims and tires ready to roll.

Now for the honest part: the timing belt decided to retire early and took the engine with it... so the car currently does not run. That said, there are rumours of a used engine available locally in Yellowknife, so for someone mechanically inclined (or feeling ambitious), this could be a bit of a diamond in the rough.

We're VERY open to offers and would love to see it go to someone who can give it a second life. Sold as is, where is — it will need to be towed from our property.

Come take it off our hands and become the hero of this car's comeback story!

Price: $ 1,500.00 or best offer
