Tacx/Garmin Smart Bike Trainer

Hey folks, do you like to train and ride your bike indoor in the winter but sometime you feel bored because of the same monotonous workouts you are doing? Are you preparing or training for a ride for the summer like the YK2HR ride, or a Gran Fondo?

How about riding/training or racing indoor online with some folks from around the world, sounds fun right? If you're interested, please read below.

For sale is my Tacx/Garmin Genius Smart Bike Trainer.

The Tacx Genius Smart Trainer is a wheel-on interactive electronic trainer featuring a powerful motor brake capable of simulating realistic road feel and uphill gradients up to 20% and descents down to -5%. It communicates via ANT+ FE-C and Bluetooth Smart, making it compatible with apps like Zwift, TrainerRoad, Rouvy and the Tacx Training App.

You will feel like riding outdoors as the smart trainer will automatically adjust the tension and ride feel of the roads you are riding. If you are climbing hills or mountains in the App then you will feel it in the trainer making your ride feels very realistic.

Included in the sale is the Tacx Genius Smart Trainer with the included BackTrack and ANT+ adaptor and a 700x23c trainer tire for road bikes. You can also use a mountain bike with the appropriate MTB trainer tire. I might have the MTB trainer tire as well which I can include in the sale, if I can find it. The bike is not included.

And if you are new to this, I can help you with the set-up and connection to your chosen app.

The trainer works perfectly, no issues at all. It just that I upgraded to a direct drive trainer so I don't have a need for this anymore.
