2007 Jeep Liberty 4x4 – 250,000 km

Selling my 2007 Jeep Liberty. It has approximately 250,000 km and still runs good. The 4x4 works, and it would make a good around-town vehicle, first vehicle for a new driver, winter beater, or parts/project vehicle.

I'm the second owner and have been maintaining this Jeep since 2010, with most of the work done by me.

Recent maintenance & repairs:

- New high-pressure power steering line – 2026
- New starter – 2026
- New ignition coils & spark plugs – 2025
- PCV valve – 2025
- Suspension work – 2025
- Alternator – 2024
- Rear axle seals – 2023
- Front axle work – 2023
- Oil changed last spring
- Differential fluids serviced
- Battery is approximately 2 years old and still under warranty – paperwork included

Known issues:

- Needs an O2 (oxygen) sensor
- Right rear ABS sensor needs attention

It's an older Jeep with 250,000 km, so I'm not trying to sell it as a perfect vehicle. It still runs well and has had a lot of maintenance done over the years.

Reason for selling: I bought a truck that better suits my lifestyle, so I no longer need the Jeep.

Located in Yellowknife.
